

NAME and SURNAME: Cemile BAYRAKLI

TITLE: “Socio-economic effects of international migration: The example of Bulgarian migrants living in Görece Göçmen Konutları (in İzmir).

ABSTRACT

In this study, the development process of migration phenomenon and its effects on World's societies are shown. Types of migration, reasons and its effects on countries are examined in a detailed way. It is emphasized that Turkey is an immigration country and there was always immigration to this country. Generally migrations after the founding of Republic are touched on particularly the Bulgarian Migration of 1989 is explained.

Turkey, after the founding of Republic, is a target which most migrants choose intensively. It is explained that migrant masses enter Turkey unintentionally. And it is emphasized that migrations from Turkey have economical purposes and their target is Europe. The importance of age-sex combination and economic roles of migrant individuals are stressed and accepted as fundamental characteristics. The analysis of socio-economic effects of coming migrants is tried to be explained by those characteristics.

KEYWORDS

Immigration, international migration, migration of workforce, Bulgarian migration.